11. (C)

- (A) Steak.
- (B) Pizza.
- (C) Sandwiches.

11. W: What did you buy in the supermarket?

M: I bought some fruit, meat, and bread. We can have a big dinner tonight.

W: Let me see. There's flour at home. We can use it to make pizza.

M: But we already ate pizza yesterday. Can we make sandwiches with the pork?

W: Sounds good.

Q: What are they going to have this evening?

12. (C)

- (A) The bread tasted like cheese.
- (B) He did not like sweet bread.
- (C) He was afraid of putting on weight.

12. W: What's wrong? Doesn't the cheese bread taste good?

M: Yes, it tastes so good.

W: Then why did you take only one bite?

M: You used too much oil and sugar, and I'm trying to lose weight.

Q: Why didn't the man finish the bread?

13. (B)

- (A) The salad is not fresh.
- (B) The fish makes the fridge smell terrible.
- (C) The man is sick because he ate the fish.

13. W: Hi, I brought you some salad.

M: Thanks. Could you put it in the fridge?

W: Sure... Oh my! What's the smell?

M: Oh, my mom brought me the fish two weeks ago, but I don't really have time to cook it.

W: Two weeks ago? The fish is not fresh anymore.

Q: What is happening?

14. (A)

- (A) It is full of people and trash.
- (B) It still looks beautiful to Nina.
- (C) The food there tastes worse than before.

14. W: Nina and I went to a fishing town today. However, the town isn't beautiful anymore. It is full of visitors and trash. The food is still delicious, but it's too expensive. We used to have a big meal there each time we visited there. This time, we only had some fried fish and vegetable soup. We really had a bad time on this trip.

Q: Which is true about the fishing town?

15. (A)

- (A) He is not a friendly person.
- (B) He sounds like a good man.
- (C) He asks Ms. Wang to work for him.

15. W: Who is the tall guy in blue jeans?

M: He's Mark, Ms. Wang's new secretary.

W: He is Ms. Wang's new secretary? Are you joking?

M: Why? What's wrong?

W: He's not nice to people. He shouts at every person.

M: Well, it doesn't matter. Ms. Wang likes him because he's smart and always helps her a lot.

Q: What can we say about Mark?
